

Brand's Glictionary, 1st Edition

Bixbyism: (n.) A quote or witty saying, sometimes scrawled on the board in the vain hope that maybe a kid will learn something.

Coods: (n.) Shortened form of cooties, an imaginary disease transmitted through touch and concentrated in saliva, believed to have been eradicated by girls who think boys are stupid.

Dufkus: (n.) A doofus, but even dorkier. A playful expression used among friends to tease.

Flipwad: (n.) A real jerk. Someone you can't stand.

Flopsucker: (n.) The king of all jerks. Someone you really can't stand.

Frad: (adj.) Freakin' radical or impressive.

Frawesome: (adj.) More awesome than awesome. Like frad, but better.

Fritzled: (adj.) Screwed up, trashed, broken, but not beyond repair. Also Fritze (v.), to royally screw up.

Gefragt: (adj.) Fritzled beyond all belief or hope of salvation.

Glictionary: (n.) A glossary and dictionary combined. Of course they're the same thing. Who cares? It sounds cool.

Shcaken: (adj.) Messy or malformed due to the application of vigorous movement and excessive heat; how you might describe a cheesecake that has been carried around in a backpack too long.

Stopher: (n.) The combination of two friends who seem inseparable but let you come hang out with them anyway.

Tunk: (n.) To fail miserably, often due to a total lack of effort on your part, as in, I tunked my test and now my grade is totally gefragt. I'm such a dufkus.
